PROTECTING EMPLOYEES

Pennsylvania Railroad Goes in Banking Business

INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Solicitors Now Going Among Employees.

The Plan is Meeting with Great Success and Other Roads are Expected to Take it up.

A decision has been handed down by the state railroad commission which the railroad officers of this city and those of the state in general will greatly appreciate. The commission realizing that it is frequently impossible and impracticable for railroad officials to give ten days' notice of excursions, yesterday amended its rules to make them read two days. This concession has been asked for again and again by railroad officers in all parts of the state, since the ten-day law has been effective.

In the matter of charges for the movement of private cars transported on regular trains, or on special trains for the exclusive use of charter parties, the commission holds that each railroad may make such regulations and charges as it deems proper; provided, that whatever rates and regulations are made effective, they must be available to the public, and without discrimination, and uniform on each line.

No change can be made for assembling equipment. No special train nor special coach can be operated without the publication of a tariff covering definitely the rules and regulations on which it is carried. These rules apply to electric interurban as well as to steam lines.—Youngstown Vindicator.

Since the recent failure of several banks, with which railroad employees were heavy depositors, the Pennsylvania company officials have been particularly active in their endeavor to induce their employees to deposit their savings with the company, thus forming a saving's bank business to be run by the company.

The employees of the Pennsylvania deposit their savings in $100 sums with the company, and insure its safety and allow a 3 per cent. dividend. If the money deposited makes more than three per cent., the depositor gets the benefit. Deposits may be made with the agents, as all of them are authorized to act as bankers. They also pay out to any who desire to withdraw. It is said that solicitors of the company are meeting with great success in working up the banking business, and it will undoubtedly result that other railroads will take up the movement.

The Pennsylvania's reason for organizing such a plan was not to make the company money, as the company does not even charge for handling the money. However, recently, the Mahoningtown bank, the New Castle bank and several others along the lines went up, and many of the company's employees were caught, some losing all they had, and the savings of many years.

W. P. Kimbrell, division engineer of the Erie, with headquarters at Galion, was looking after business in local railroad circles today.

M. A. Gee and L. W. Thomas, foreman of the local interlocking plant, installed a new water tank in the engine room of the depot plant today.

TENTH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Is Held by Green Camp
High School.

Three Young Ladies Complete the Course and Receive Diplomas.

The tenth annual commencement of the Green Camp high school was conducted in the auditorium of the Free Baptist church of that town Friday evening. Three graduates were the products of the thorough three year course and a more intelligent class was never graduated from the schools of that town.

The church rostrum was tastefully decorated for the occasion in class pennant, palms, and cut flowers. The class colors—green and pink prevailed throughout the decorations. The program opened at 8 o'clock and practically every seat in the auditorium was occupied with attentive friends and relatives of the class. The members of the class were Miss Nora Savage, Miss Rhea Smeltzer and Mildred Boxwell.

The graduates delivered a lengthy oration which were eloquent in the extreme. The theme of Miss Savage's oration was, "The Spirit That Should Animate." Miss Smeltzer spoke on, "Education as Related to Civil Prosperity" while the theme of Miss Boxwell's oration was, "The Treason of Benedict Arnold." The class address was given by Rev. J. Holliday of Prospect who used the class motto for the theme of his address, "Nothing but darkness brings out the stars." A concluding feature of the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. Dowell of Prospect, who is preceptress of music in the Green Camp schools. She was accompanied by Miss Dale Horton of Acosta.

The exercises throughout were replete in lofty educational principles and the orations of the graduates displayed extraordinary talent on the part of all. The diplomas were presented by Rev. F. A. Twining, a pastor of the church in which the exercises were held.

Phate of Phrances and Phranklin. The letter "T" on the typewriter of a well known novelist recently went wrong. The author was equal to the occasion, as will be seen from the following portion of his manuscript:

"Phairest oph the phair," sighed he lover, "phancy my phellings when I phoreose the phearful consequences oph our phleing phrom your phather's phamily. Phew phellows could have placed the music with as much phor titude as I have, and as phickle phor tune phalls to smile on our love I must phorego the pleasure oph be coming your husband. Phairest, Phrances, pharewell, phorever!"

"Hold, Phranklin, hold!" screamed Phrancis; "I will phollow you phorever!"

But Phranklin had phied and Phrancis phainted.

Suit for Damages Filed Against Marion Pump and Supply Co. in Court House News.

Fred W. Peters, the well known insurance agent, filed a petition in the court of common pleas, this afternoon asking for a divorce from Lillian Peters. His attorney is L. B. McNeal.

The suit is based on purely statutory grounds. The plaintiff charges his wife with having deserted him November 19, 1906. He says she went to Columbus to live with relatives and that she is still making her home there. She refuses to return to live with him. He charges gross neglect of duty. Mr. and Mrs. Peters were married in this city on December 28, 1899.

Besides praying for a divorce, Mr. Peters asks that his wife be barred from all dower interest in his property.

John E. Berringer, plaintiff in a suit for damages against the C. D. & M. Electric Railway company, filed in the court of common pleas today, through his attorney, L. E. Myers. This case was appended from the court of Justice H. C. Thompson by the C. D. & M. company.

Berringer claims that May 5 1906 one of the C. D. & M. cars struck and killed one of his cows near Marion Park. He alleges that there were no cattle guards about the track. The motorman, instead of trying to stop the car accelerated the speed, it is alleged. Berringer asks for $40 damages with interest from May 5, 1906. In the Justice's court he was awarded $41.80.

A suit against Clifford Fling, Joseph G. Morrey and P. L. Harrell doing business as the Marion Pump & Supply House, was brought in the court of common pleas, this morning by the Columbus Brass company. The plaintiff company owes it $393.02 on account. The Columbus concern prays for judgment for this amount with interest from January 7, 1907.

In the suit of Dr. Andrew Timberman of Columbus against Stedford has filed an amended answer in court of common pleas through attorneys Seefeld, Darfee & Seefeld. Bishop says his wife started to take treatment for her eyes of Timberman and that the agreement was if she should get no benefit no payment would be made. Timberman sues for professional services.
